

Love Your Legs

Provided By Vein Specialty Center

Dr. Larry Stern and the staff of the Vein Specialty Center in Wooster are on a mission to provide the most advanced techniques for the diagnosis and treatment of varicose veins and venous diseases. They are committed to rendering professional, compassionate, and personalized care in a comfortable environment.

Dr. Larry A. Stern is a General and Vascular Surgeon with a specific interest in the treatment of venous Laser Ablation, one of the newest procedures offering dramatic results. Microphlebectomy, sometimes called ambulatory phlebectomy, is a minimally invasive method of removing large surface varicose veins. He also performs Sclerotherapy, a treatment for both varicose and spider veins. In addition, the office offers Color Flow Duplex Ultrasound. Ultrasound imaging techniques have improved the management of venous problems from both a diagnostic and therapeutic standpoint.

What Patients Have to Say...

Before I had this procedure I had lots of pain and swelling, and was embarrassed to wear shorts thinking that everyone was looking at my legs. But now my legs look and feel great. There is no more pain or swelling, and this summer will be the first summer that I've bought a swimsuit in 8 years. ~ P.P., Apple Creek, OH

I had my procedure in March of 2007 after years of worry and concern. As a fitness instructor, I spend my days exercising and promoting health. Yet, I covered my legs in embarrassment, never realizing the health risks and consequences of my vein disease. After suffering for so long from pain, burning, and itching, I decided to have the vein procedure. Now, my legs not only look better but feel better. I have learned all I can about vein health, and share my positive experience with so many people. ~ J.C., Wooster, OH ment of varicose veins, spider veins, venous ulcers and vein diseases. He has been committed to the treatment of venous disorders for over 20 years, offering the most contemporary minimally-invasive techniques to his patients. He is board certified by the American Board of Surgery and the American Board of Phlebology.

The treatments and procedures offered by the Vein Specialty Center are truly changing lives.

The Vein Specialty Center is announcing a new advanced treatment for spider veins. The VeinGogh offers groundbreaking microburst technology and has proved to be immensely popular with patients. Procedures result in rapid recovery and allow the small veins of the legs and face to be eliminated.

Dr. Stern also performs En-

The use of sound waves allows for a thorough evaluation of the veins in the leg, providing information regarding the presence of blood clots, obstruction and valvular function.

The Vein Specialty Center has moved to its new state-of-the-art facility conveniently located at 2317 Gateway Drive Wooster, OH 44691. As the only vein treatment center in Wayne County, their reputation for state-of-the-art technology and patient care is well known in surrounding counties. They treat patients from Medina, Stark, Holmes and Cuyahoga Counties as well.
